

Great Is The Lord

Freely He gives to His children and freely they live
No more shall sin be their master or conscience hold guilt
He writes the law on their heart and He'll tear their whole world apart
For His jealousy burns towards whatever would cause their depart

Those who He calls He has known and vows to sustain Thought the promise is misrepresented the Truth still remains
That the dead are not free to decide if they should believe or deny
For He and He alone can bring them to life

Oh, oh, oh great is the Lord
Hallelujah great is the Lord
For His ways will never change
He is full of Truth and Grace
Now it is their hearts refrain
That great is the Lord

Others have come with resistance denying the claim
That one could secure reparations by taking their sin
So they trust in their deeds to acquire a place only grace can provide
As the road paved by prophets and idols lead only to hearts growing weary and tired

But oh, oh, oh great is the Lord
Hallelujah great is the Lord
For His ways will never change
He is full of Truth and Grace
Now it is their hearts refrain
That great is the Lord

Written by Corey Nolen
Copyright Corey Nolen

www.etherealband.com