

Higher

I've felt the ground shake, I've felt My own will break and as Life turns another page I'm getting closer to You my God and I Am no bigger than the rest
Still You hold for me this righteousness

I'm going higher, I'm going higher
I'm going higher, I'm going higher

I've felt ungodly forces
Try to hold me back try to keep me from my Lord
But now I'm learning that You're big enough to take my sinfulness
And send me running back to You

I could never compensate
So I'll live to show You my thanks

I know this road might get even harder, but I hear You say
I have overcome so why don't you take heart
